Dear Ms. Canellopoulos:

On behalf of the Committee on Graduate Studies, it is my pleasure to inform you that you have been admitted as an LL.M. degree candidate for the 1993-1994 academic year. Your admission, however, is conditional upon your obtaining a minimum score of 570 on the TOEFL exam. Your TOEFL score must be in our office no later than June 5, 1993.

You have been selected from a field of very talented applicants. We intend to have an LL.M. class of approximately 130 students from more than 50 countries, and believe you will find the Graduate Program offers a rich, supportive, and intellectually stimulating environment.

Please let us know by April 27 whether or not you accept this offer of admission. If you choose to accept our offer of admission, you will receive in future mailings information concerning assistance in obtaining your visa, general Graduate Program information, and course pre-registration materials. If you have applied for financial aid, a decision will be sent to you on April 15, 1993. We have enclosed statements concerning the acceptance deposit and expenses.

We congratulate you on your accomplishments, and hope you will decide to be with us next year. Best wishes.

Sincerely,

Athena D. Mutua
